Conservation Commission – Fiscal Year 23 Appropriations Review

FY'22 APPROPRIATIONS

FY'22 Appropriation	$13,726,001
Abandoned Mine Land Supplemental (HB 4461)	$2,100,931

Due to an interpretation of the McGirt ruling, the Commission no longer has access to federal funds related to reclaiming abandoned mine lands. Per legislative agreement, $348,010 of the supplemental appropriation will be re-budgeted in FY'23 for the Nutrient Management Planning project.

FY '22 Revised Appropriation	$15,826,932
-------------------------------------	---------------------

FY'23 APPROPRIATIONS

1. Debt Service	$111,999
-----------------	-----------

The Commission was expected to need additional funding for current bonds and the bond payment for the recently sold high hazard dam bonds above the original estimate. Total bond payments for the agency in FY '23 will be $3,776,154.

2. Abandoned Mine Land Program	$3,000,000
--------------------------------	-------------

Since the agency is not expected to regain access to federal funds for most of FY '23, the cost of the program is fully funded with state appropriated dollars.

3. Upstream Flood Control Dams	$2,000,000
--------------------------------	-------------

Continued maintenance and repairs on 2,107 dams to reduce the estimated backlog of $4,000,000. This is in addition to the $2,163,737 of GR funds already dedicated to this purpose (excluding bond payments).

4. Staff and Salary Increases	$730,000
-------------------------------	-----------

Funding provided to fill positions in the Conservation Districts and to provide a 10% cost of living salary increase.

5. Operational Funding for the State Office of Geographic Information	$444,988
---	-----------

This state service provides an open-source data base available to public and private use. This amount should fully fund the office.

Conservation Commission – Fiscal Year 23 Appropriations Review

6. Roadside Erosion Program	$400,000
-----------------------------	-----------

Funding provided for the new program will be used to train and support county commissioners to address recurring erosion problems on county roads and provide cost-sharing grants.

New FY23 Funds	$6,686,987
----------------	-------------

TOTAL FY'23 Appropriation	$20,162,988
----------------------------------	---------------------

- The National Land Conservation Day at the Capitol was the key event for Communications for the month:

Before the event sent out two media advisories.

PHOTOS: Took photos during all three days of two practices, registration, contest, speakers and awards. About 800 photos with camera and phone.

Gave those to Amy who placed them on Flickr and Gilbert who included gave them the student who included them in the video.

PRINT: Within two hours of the awards ending, sent out an overall awards release to 1,811 news contacts and 11,349 soil health contacts with three photos from the competition.

Also sent out a release specifically to the Oklahoma Farm Report highlight the national team title won by Vian, including a photo of their team accepting the award. So at 4:41 a.m., I receive an email from Ron Hays who says we are going to get that out this morning on our statewide email. And they did. Then at 6:32 a.m., I get another email from Ron telling me he has also made it the Top Ag Story on their web site.

SOCIAL MEDIA: I placed the release on Facebook and it reached 6,433 people with 52 likes and 32 shares.

In all we had nine Facebook posts that brought in 370 Likes, 133 Shares and reached 33,651 people which by comparison is larger than the 14th largest city in Oklahoma, Shawnee (31,496). So per post, we averaged 41 Likes, 15 Shares and reached 3,739 people.

We also posted on Instagram and the Stories did well, averaging 55 views per story.

- A second significant event was the Field Day for Garfield County.

Drove to Garber, Billings and Covington areas for Field Day titled “Summer Cover Crops To Support Winter Wheat.” The Garfield County Conservation District, the Oklahoma Conservation Commission (OCC) and General Mills showcased demonstration farms in the Garber area.

Took photos and posted 51 photos to Facebook. That post had 30 Likes and reach 1,910 people. The Instagram Story had 50 views.

Then wrote a document and placed 31 photos with captions on it for Jimmy Emmons to provide for General Mills.

Blue Thumb—In Pictures

May 2022

A School of Fish...

This past month, Blue Thumb and the Oklahoma Conservation Commission's Rotating Basin program attended our annual Fish School event! We haven't been able to go to fish school for a few years due to COVID, so this year was our first in a long while. You're probably wondering what in the world do we do at Fish School? Fish, of course! This week long trip allows us to look at fish and go over how to identify them out in the field, as well as calibrate ourselves on how to properly perform our habitat assessments. And, just like our Blue Thumb volunteers, we are also QA'd! Except ours is on the habitat assessments and fish ID, so that we can properly do our fish collections every year.

Groundwater Screening!

North and West Caddo Conservation Districts teamed up this month for a groundwater screening event! They tested in the Hinton office with help Hinton 4-H students, Jake Swanson from the OCC, and Hinton's own Monty Ramming and Amy Weathers. They tested 39 samples, several of which had really high nitrate results.

Education, Education, Education

May was a huge month for Blue Thumb education. Staff worked with several Conservation Districts all over the state to help put together Natural Resource Days and Outdoor Classrooms, in addition to other entities that asked for our help in educating youth. During these events, we teach the next generation about ways to best protect our most precious resource!

Clockwise: Cheryl took EnviroScape to Pawnee County's NRD; Kim demonstrates EnviroScape at Murray County NRD; Kingfisher County kids go through the water cycle with the Incredible Journey; Kim talks about nonpoint source pollution to WhizKids in Del City; kids in Dewey County examine bugs at their Outdoor Classroom; Fish Printing at Tulsa's Crow Creek Watershed event
